

Tackling Tuition

You already know the benefits of a parochial school: strong traditions, personal attention, and a focus on religious principles. A good religious education is important to many families, but high tuition costs can make it a challenge to afford.

Scrip Makes Sense for Parochial School Parents

When families buy scrip gift cards through our school's scrip program, they'll receive the full value of what they paid, and they'll earn an immediate rebate percentage of what they spent – typically between 3% and 15%, depending on the retailer. Imagine taking your kids back-to-school shopping at Old Navy and earning 14%! You can use the proceeds to supplement the school budget, and families can receive credit for their earnings toward tuition and other expenses.

The tax code prevents other kinds of fundraisers from sharing proceeds with families, but not scrip. That's a huge incentive for families facing a tuition bill on top of other school expenses like field trips, books, and supplies. Scrip fundraising gives parochial school parents a way to make a dent in those expenses by shopping wisely and using scrip to pay for your household spending.
